Why I'm Voting for Rebecca Cooke...

I'm supporting Rebecca Cooke in her campaign for becoming the next Congressional Representative in Wisconsin's 3rd Congressional District. Rebecca and I share some similar life experiences and values.

Rebecca grew up on a dairy farm in Western Wisconsin and showed cattle at the County Fair through 4-H. I did the same. Through these life experiences, Rebecca has knowledge of what it takes to run a small farm. She knows both the joys and struggles of farming and has an appreciation for farmers in Western Wisconsin. She knows that farming is more than a livelihood but a lifestyle that many people choose. She understands firsthand how Government rules and interactions can help small farmers succeed. Rebecca will be a positive voice and advocate for small farmers in Washington, D.C.

Rebecca also has firsthand experience with running a small business. Forming and running a small business isn't for the faint of heart, having started a small Main Street business myself. There are many challenges to this endeavor, ranging from inventory controls, sale transactions, employees and many other elements. The 3rd Congressional District is full of small towns with Main Streets. Some are vibrant while others have a lot to be desired. Rebecca will advocate for programs and regulations that help Main Street businesses thrive. One of the biggest challenges small business owners face is health care since many have to purchase this on their own. Healthcare has gone up a lot in the past years. Rebecca supports funding the enhanced tax credits to help with health insurance premiums through the Affordable Care Act Marketplace. The current Congress let them expire.

Rebecca has lived experiences about being a small farmer and running a small Main Street business in Western Wisconsin. These are experiences that you can't learn in a classroom or on a campaign trail. Rebecca will be an advocate for the small farmers and businesses in Congress. Join me in voting for Rebecca Cooke for Congress on November 3rd.

Sincerely, Max Hart
Farmer and Small Business Owner, Black River Falls

VOTE NO for the EXTRA $4 Million Dollar Referendum for BRF School District

Over the last 6 years the Black River Falls School District has lost approximately 1/3 of the district's students, who have moved their children to other districts or are home schooling. The district should be laying off administrative staff, even teachers, instead of hiring more. The BRF District has a dismal record of educating our children with 60% below grade level in English and 62% of the students below grade level in Math. Even one of the School Board members has moved their children to a different school district. How can the district have the audacity to request an additional $4 million dollars without a coherent plan to educate our children and prepare them for technical school, college or life? VOTE NO for the additional funding referendum on November 3rd. The district should live within its budget as we all must.

AND GOD SAYS...

For this very reason, make every effort to add to your faith goodness; and to goodness, knowledge; and to knowledge, self-control; and to self-control, perseverance; and to perseverance, godliness; and to godliness, mutual affection; and to mutual affection, love. For if you possess these qualities in increasing measure, they will keep you from being ineffective and unproductive in your knowledge of our Lord Jesus Christ. (2 Peter 1:5-8 NIV)

Even though it is God who has empowered us and enabled us to "escape the corruption in the world caused by evil desires," (vs 3-4) we are expected and responsible to develop godly character in our lives. It requires that we focus on it and work at it. It doesn't just happen. It requires some kind of plan.

For example, Benjamin Franklin actually developed a work-day tracker to journal his progress in the development of 13 character qualities in his life. My grandson, Mike, actually posts a monthly character value for his family to focus on each month, stressing its importance.

As quoted above, the apostle Peter emphasized eight qualities to incorporate into one's life as a believer in Christ. But he has done this in a sequential order so that the first is foundational to the second, and so on. Secondly, it is to be a recurring effort, completed over and over again, each time in increasing measure.

It all begins with faith in Jesus Christ. It is also important to note that he does not say, "add to your faith, knowledge" like we might be prone to expect, but goodness or virtue (KJV; defined as moral excellence). That is putting your faith into action, not because you understand all the reasons why, but just because God says it is good. That's faith— and the just shall live by faith (2 Cor. 5:7).

Finally, notice that love is not just a compassionate, understanding feeling. It is based on the development of those qualities in one's life. They build a strength of character that enables one to love as Christ loved us and gave himself for us. (Ephesians 5:1).

Let us then "make every effort" not just "an effort" to build our lives God's way.

BARN OWL

NOT A REASON TO DIE

In September I wrote THE PRICE OF GOOD HEALTH. I listed the personal barriers that can stop us from getting health care when we need it. These include stubbornness, denial, putting other people's needs before our own, fear of losing control and fear of knowing the truth.

But the barrier that may be greater than all the others – is the cost of health care. Sometimes, health care costs so much we simply can't afford it. Other times, the cost convinces us to wait. I have seen this in my medical practice and in my personal life.

My daughter, Catie, was 32 years old when she suddenly collapsed on a street corner in Minneapolis and died. A large blood clot traveled to her lungs, and blocked the flow of blood. This cut off all oxygen and overloaded the right side of her heart. Her heart stopped. That was six years ago.

Catie did not share much information about her health. Her story came together as we sorted her papers and listened to her friends. The year before, Catie had a blood clot in her leg. She saw a doctor and was prescribed a blood thinner. She took it until the clot was gone. But when the clot came back, she reasoned she could manage it herself. She took aspirin thinking she could stop the clot. We found many bottles of aspirin in her apartment. During a video call with her doctor, she complained she was short of breath and asked for another inhaler. She did not mention the clot in her leg.

Catie had her share of stubbornness and denial. She always placed other people's needs before her own. She didn't like telling me, her doctor father, about her health. She did not like to be told what to do. She also did not tell me that she could not afford clinic visits. She worked a low paying job with poor health insurance and high out-of- pocket costs.

Catie hesitated again and again when confronted with the cost of her care. From her perspective, the cost could always justify a little more waiting, or treating herself. An affordable health care system would not have cured Catie's stubborn nature, but it would have removed one more barrier between her and treatment for a disease that did not have to take her life.

Every day at work, I see the financial pain my patients face just to get the right diagnosis and a good plan of care. We save money where we can, but we can't cut corners.

In a country as rich as ours, it is criminal to leave our people with crushing debt and rising copays. Health should not be an industry for profit, not in the clinic, hospital or nursing home.
We can do better.

COLLABORATION IS ESSENTIAL
TO SOLVING THE PROBLEMS FACING JACKSON COUNTY.
I am proud to have received a letter of endorsement from Black River Falls Chief of Police Travis Brown.
Effective public safety requires strong working relationships between our law enforcement agencies, emergency services, county departments, and community partners. Collaboration strengthens public safety, improves efficiency, and produces better outcomes for the people of Jackson County.

OUR JAIL
RESPONSIBLE SOLUTIONS, NOT UNNECESSARY CONSTRUCTION
During the recent Sheriff's debate, Sheriff Waldera stated:
"Our linear jail has outlived its purpose."
"We need somebody on the county board to fund an improvement to make our jail safe."
However, the Sheriff's Office's own annual reports show jail bookings have declined significantly:
2019 1,254 bookings | 2024 601 bookings
That's a 52% decrease in annual bookings.
I do not believe Jackson County needs a new jail.
Our existing facility can continue serving Jackson County with proper maintenance, improvements, and effective management. We need to evaluate our actual needs, maximize our resources, and explore cost-effective alternatives.

FLOCK CAMERAS
PROTECTING YOUR CONSTITUTIONAL RIGHTS
My opponent implemented six FLOCK license plate recognition cameras in Jackson County and continues to support funding this technology.
I oppose mass surveillance and believe this technology raises serious Fourth Amendment concerns.
Protecting our communities should not come at the expense of individual privacy and constitutional protections.
If elected, I will remove FLOCK cameras on day one.

STAFFING
RESTORING TRUST AND RETAINING EMPLOYEES
Staffing shortages have reached crisis levels across multiple divisions of the Sheriff's Office. Previous employee reports have also raised concerns about internal reporting practices.
We must address the workplace culture contributing to these challenges.
My priorities include:
- employee retention
- open communication
- meaningful reporting protections
- consistent accountability
- professional development
- employee wellness

Our employees are the foundation of public safety. Taking care of them is essential to serving our communities effectively.

EQUIPMENT READINESS
PLANNING BEFORE FAILURE
Critical public safety equipment, including our emergency radio tower communications system, has been described as reaching the end of its useful life.
Reliable communications are essential to protecting our deputies, dispatchers, firefighters, EMS personnel, and residents.
We need to identify a clear direction for restoring and improving communications reliability.
I will prioritize comprehensive equipment inventories, condition assessments, replacement schedules, and long-term financial planning.
We must also pursue alternative funding opportunities, including available grants, to help reduce the burden on Jackson County taxpayers.

Citizens State Bank of Loyal

Welcome!

Kristin Pagel
VP - Ag & Commercial Loan Officer
NMLS#1087191

CSB of Loyal is excited to share that Kristin Pagel will be joining us as Vice President, Ag & Commercial Loan Officer!

With 13 years of experience in agricultural and commercial banking, Kristin brings a strong background of both lending and underwriting. She has a strong passion for serving the agricultural industry and rural communities in our area. As a former dairy farmer, Kristin takes a boots on the ground approach to her work. Her firsthand experience gives her a unique understanding of the challenges agricultural producers and business owners face. This allows her to provide knowledgeable, practical guidance to help her clients navigate their financial needs. We are thrilled to have you join our team, Kristin!

"REX"

Rex is the CCHS Pet of the Week!

Your big handsome Shepherd is here! Looking for a big guy to make an even bigger impression on your heart? Then come meet Rex! This handsome three-year-old German Shepherd sports the classic black and tan coat and weighs in at almost 90 pounds of pure Shepherd goodness! Rex is a big guy looking for a home to call his own, German Shepherds are known for their intelligence, loyalty and adventurous spirit and Rex is looking for someone ready to help him make the most out of his life outside of the shelter. At 90 ibs, Rex is definitely not small, and not a tiny lap dog... But who's to say he won't try? If you've got the room, in your home and heart, Rex is ready to move out of the shelter and into your life. You can submit your adoption application for Rex on our website: www.cchs-petshelter.org/applying-to-adopt.

Do you have a love for cats and dogs and have been thinking it would be nice to help out at CCHS? Well, now's your chance! Whether it's a few hours a week, one day a month, or something in between, this is your opportunity to try it out. We are very much in need of volunteers! You can learn more and sign up on our website: https://www.cchs-petshelter.org/volunteer or email April at cchsoutreach1@gmail.com. Come join our CCHS volunteer family!

Rural Outreach for Better Mental Health - Take a Hike!

Rural Central Wisconsin has a free and available "prescription" to aid in mental well-being – the great outdoors! As we go through autumn, take advantage of the power of nature to ward off depressed feelings that sometimes come with shorter daylight hours. As little as 10-20 minutes a day outdoors can help prevent stress and improve mental health. Some studies show that the same benefits can come from 20- 30 minutes outdoors three times a week.

Do I need to go out to the deep forest for this effect? No, these well-being effects can be received from being in your yard, garden and for those who cannot venture outside, it is even helpful to view nature from the window.

How does this work? Nature lowers stress hormones such as cortisol, helps slow your heart rate and can help regulate blood pressure. It also positively influences the gut microbiome, which is closely related to mental health. Fresh air and plants help increase serotonin and dopamine-neurochemicals which increase feelings of happiness and motivation. Sunlight also may help your body obtain Vitamin D, which is linked to lower rates of depression and anxiety.

Nature is awe-inducing. What does that mean? Have you ever viewed one of our spectacular Central WI sunsets and felt "How Wonderful!"? That feeling of "awe" is having some tremendous benefits for your mental health. It is the same thing experienced while viewing the ocean or sitting on a mountain top.

Nature activates all our senses, promotes mindfulness, and helps us with focus and inner peace.

If you are struggling with mental health, help is a phone call away. The 988 Suicide and Crisis Lifeline— reached by dialing 988— is a vital resource to reach trained counselors during a mental health crisis. Please call 911 for life-threatening situations. Calling 211 to reach the "211 Wisconsin" Resource Hotline to assist with addiction recovery, caregiver assistance, housing and shelter, counseling, and more. Text The HOPELINE at 741741 if you are in crisis or just needing someone to listen.
